

Handbook of Intelligent Policing

From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA

Download now

Read Online

Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA

In the last twenty-five years, there has been a growing awareness of the role of intelligence within law enforcement activity. This edited volume on intelligence is the first of its kind to draw together in one volume scholarly and practical perspectives on intelligence in policing. In a range of essays from leading experts and practitioners, this book sets out the main concepts and philosophies behind the practical framework for intelligence gathering and analysis in UK policing. The book's four Editors bring a wealth of experience and knowledge to bear upon the subject matter: Sir David Phillips and Professor John Grieve were instrumental in developing and defining the role of intelligence in English policing; Dr Clive Harfield has operational experience managing an intelligence unit and was a national intelligence officer; and Professor Allyson MacVean has practical experience working with the police on issues of dangerous offender management and community impact assessments.

The emphasis on intelligence for the purposes of policing has been expressed theoretically in 'intelligence-led policing'; a mantra repeated by both politicians and senior police officers and suggesting that intelligence is the universal panacea for all ills - from national security to creating safer neighbourhoods. This expression betrays both the potential sophistication of intelligence and the very real implementation problems that practitioners encounter daily. This volume seeks to address these complexities through its discussion of how intelligence has been conceptualised and developed into practical products for the purposes of policing as undertaken not only by the police, but also by partner agencies and other providers.

Divided into four parts, each section of the book begins with a comprehensive overview of the topic written by the Editors. The Editors pose a series of questions which are explored further by expert contributors in a series of essays, each one an important contribution to the treatment of intelligence in policing today. Part One looks at the history and theory of intelligence in policing, reflecting on how the police service arrived at its current approaches to intelligence; Part Two deals with analysis, examining the police relationship with analysts and the various models of analysis; Part Three looks at partnership with other agencies (prisons/local authorities) and draws on case studies to explore how different frameworks can be structured; and Part Four looks to the future and asks whether intelligence-led policing is the answer.

Contributors include R. Mark Evans, Director of Analytical Services for the Police Service of Northern Ireland and National Manager for Intelligence at New Zealand Police;
Michael Hawley, Federal Agent for the Australian Federal Police;
Professor Betsy Stanko;
and Sir Paul Scott-Lee, Chief Constable at West Midlands Police.

 Download Handbook of Intelligent Policing ...pdf

 Read Online Handbook of Intelligent Policing ...pdf

Handbook of Intelligent Policing

From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA

Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA

In the last twenty-five years, there has been a growing awareness of the role of intelligence within law enforcement activity. This edited volume on intelligence is the first of its kind to draw together in one volume scholarly and practical perspectives on intelligence in policing. In a range of essays from leading experts and practitioners, this book sets out the main concepts and philosophies behind the practical framework for intelligence gathering and analysis in UK policing. The book's four Editors bring a wealth of experience and knowledge to bear upon the subject matter: Sir David Phillips and Professor John Grieve were instrumental in developing and defining the role of intelligence in English policing; Dr Clive Harfield has operational experience managing an intelligence unit and was a national intelligence officer; and Professor Allyson MacVean has practical experience working with the police on issues of dangerous offender management and community impact assessments.

The emphasis on intelligence for the purposes of policing has been expressed theoretically in 'intelligence-led policing'; a mantra repeated by both politicians and senior police officers and suggesting that intelligence is the universal panacea for all ills - from national security to creating safer neighbourhoods. This expression betrays both the potential sophistication of intelligence and the very real implementation problems that practitioners encounter daily. This volume seeks to address these complexities through its discussion of how intelligence has been conceptualised and developed into practical products for the purposes of policing as undertaken not only by the police, but also by partner agencies and other providers.

Divided into four parts, each section of the book begins with a comprehensive overview of the topic written by the Editors. The Editors pose a series of questions which are explored further by expert contributors in a series of essays, each one an important contribution to the treatment of intelligence in policing today. Part One looks at the history and theory of intelligence in policing, reflecting on how the police service arrived at its current approaches to intelligence; Part Two deals with analysis, examining the police relationship with analysts and the various models of analysis; Part Three looks at partnership with other agencies (prisons/local authorities) and draws on case studies to explore how different frameworks can be structured; and Part Four looks to the future and asks whether intelligence-led policing is the answer.

Contributors include R. Mark Evans, Director of Analytical Services for the Police Service of Northern Ireland and National Manager for Intelligence at New Zealand Police;
Michael Hawley, Federal Agent for the Australian Federal Police;
Professor Betsy Stanko;
and Sir Paul Scott-Lee, Chief Constable at West Midlands Police.

Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA Bibliography

- Rank: #7582358 in Books

- Brand: Brand: Oxford University Press, USA
- Published on: 2008-10-15
- Original language: English
- Number of items: 1
- Dimensions: 6.10" h x .70" w x 9.10" l, 1.05 pounds
- Binding: Paperback
- 368 pages

 Download Handbook of Intelligent Policing ...pdf

 Read Online Handbook of Intelligent Policing ...pdf

Download and Read Free Online Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA

---

Editorial Review

About the Author

Professor John Grieve QPM is Professor Emeritus and Chair of the John Grieve Centre for Policing at London Metropolitan University, and a former Director of Intelligence for the Metropolitan Police.

Professor Allyson McVean is Director and Founder of the John Grieve Centre for Policing and Community Safety, London Metropolitan University. She has extensive practical experience of working with police forces on issues of dangerous offender management and community impact assessments, and thus brings a third party perspective to the partnership use of intelligence.

Dr Clive Harfield is Deputy Director of the John Grieve Centre for Policing and Community Safety and a police commander and national intelligence officer. Dr Harfield is co-author of two Blackstone's Practical Policing titles, Covert Investigation and Intelligence.

Sir David Phillips is Director of the National Centre of Policing Excellence and former Chief Constable of Kent Police. He was knighted in 2000 for his services to policing and is an honorary fellow of Christ Church, University of Oxford. Sir David is best known for his development of 'intelligence led' policing, his contributions to criminal justice reform and his advocacy of professional skills in investigation. He was a member of the Criminal Justice Council by appointment of the Lord Chancellor.

Users Review

From reader reviews:

Gerard Brand:

Book is to be different for every grade. Book for children till adult are different content. We all know that that book is very important for people. The book Handbook of Intelligent Policing has been making you to know about other expertise and of course you can take more information. It doesn't matter what advantages for you. The publication Handbook of Intelligent Policing is not only giving you much more new information but also to get your friend when you sense bored. You can spend your personal spend time to read your e-book. Try to make relationship using the book Handbook of Intelligent Policing. You never sense lose out for everything if you read some books.

Jacqueline McArdle:

Nowadays reading books be than want or need but also be a life style. This reading practice give you lot of advantages. The advantages you got of course the knowledge the actual information inside the book that improve your knowledge and information. The data you get based on what kind of book you read, if you want attract knowledge just go with training books but if you want really feel happy read one along with theme for entertaining including comic or novel. The actual Handbook of Intelligent Policing is kind of guide which is giving the reader unpredictable experience.

Charles Bax:

Your reading 6th sense will not betray you actually, why because this Handbook of Intelligent Policing reserve written by well-known writer who really knows well how to make book that can be understand by anyone who else read the book. Written with good manner for you, still dripping wet every ideas and composing skill only for eliminate your own hunger then you still question Handbook of Intelligent Policing as good book not just by the cover but also by content. This is one reserve that can break don't judge book by its protect, so do you still needing yet another sixth sense to pick that!? Oh come on your reading sixth sense already alerted you so why you have to listening to one more sixth sense.

Patty Shield:

The book untitled Handbook of Intelligent Policing contain a lot of information on the item. The writer explains her idea with easy means. The language is very straightforward all the people, so do certainly not worry, you can easy to read this. The book was authored by famous author. The author will bring you in the new time of literary works. It is easy to read this book because you can read more your smart phone, or device, so you can read the book inside anywhere and anytime. In a situation you wish to purchase the e-book, you can wide open their official web-site and order it. Have a nice read.

Download and Read Online Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA #1PXSDC9F4UI

Read Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA for online ebook

Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA Free PDF d0wnl0ad, audio books, books to read, good books to read, cheap books, good books, online books, books online, book reviews epub, read books online, books to read online, online library, greatbooks to read, PDF best books to read, top books to read Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA books to read online.

Online Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA ebook PDF download

Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA Doc

Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA MobiPocket

Handbook of Intelligent Policing From Brand: Oxford University Press, USA EPub